

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Tuesday, November 3

1998

NASA selects Maryland firm to provide information technology

NASA has selected OAO Corporation of Greenbelt, Md., to provide information technology services for the four Office of Space Flight Centers, including the Marshall Center, under the Outsourcing Desktop Initiative for NASA (ODIN). The services under the existing ODIN master contract at Goddard Space Flight Center in Maryland, include desktop computer, server, local area network, telephone, local video, administrative radio, remote communication and public address services. Total value for the four delivery orders is about $154.9 million, including $41.7 million for Marshall.

Toastmasters
mtg. 11:30 a.m.
Tuesday, Bldg.
4610, cafeteria
conference rm.

Open Season Health Fair set for Thursday in Bldg. 4203, room 1201

NASA Exchange offers space-related memorabilia

Mattel's "Mars Rover Action Pack" and the Marshall Center "Beanie Baby" space suits are available from 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Monday-Friday at the NASA Exchange in Bldg. 4752. The Hot Wheels are priced at $5 each and the space suits are $3.25 each. The special edition "John Glenn Action-Pack Hot Wheels" have temporarily sold out, and have been re-ordered. Contact: NASA Exchange, 4-7564